Levas takes village to feds; injunction hopeful

A Federal Court injunction could be handed down as early as this week due to a suit filed on behalf of Pete and Ernie Levas. The suit stems from an ordinance adopted by the Antioch Village Board on Jan. 21 eliminating the sale of drug paraphernalia within the village limits.

The Levas brothers, whose business was allegedly the most affected by the new law, are hoping to get at least a preliminary injunction in the U.S. District Court for Northern Illinois, located in Chicago, so that they can continue to operate their t-shirt and specialty business located on Main St.

Levas, in his store, sells t-shirts, tobaccos, smoking utensils and other variety items.

PETE LEVAS CONTENDED that the indecision on the village's part to decide whether to enforce the law or not, led to the removal of the pipes from his store. "My client removed pipes from his store out of fear," stated Levas' attorney Michael J. Pritzker, a partner in the Keith Stroup lawfirm in Chicago. "The village stated that they were intending to enforce the law, but they never took any action," he added.

According to Pritzker, there have been dinances of the type Antioch has. There is one that went in favor of the ordinance, but it is being appealed. "We are optimistic that a judge will not uphold this ordinance," he

"Under this ordinance, what is described as drug parphernalia could be found in a common drug or hardware store," stated Pritzker. "This is a vague, unconstitutional law," he stated.

ACCORDING TO Levas, the pipes he sells are not intended for illegal use. "I had good customers that bought pipes for collection purposes," he stated. He also maintained that the false accusation that he sells drug paraphernalia has hurt his business. "I run a respectable business, and my clients are all adults able to make their own decisions," he stated. "The village is wasting my time and their money by letting this thing go to court,"

Levas said that he thought there could have been some sort of compromise at the very beginning of the drawing of the ordinance. "We were never approached at the beginning of this thing about being offensive to the people of this village. We have enforced a strict age limit, and we do not display any of our utensils in our windows," he stated. "The action of the village officials is going to end up costing Antioch taxpayers a lot of money," he added.

Antioch officials, including Mayor Michael over 50 decisions going against local or- Haley and Attorney Andrew Lynch, were hesitant to comment on the situation. "I really don't know anything about the situation," Haley stated. "I understand that Levas has filed for an injunction so that he tered the Antioch Chamber of Commerce Easter promotion. According to LuAl Clark, chairman of the retail committee, the response of the merchants was overwhelming. "There were few negative respon-. ses to this promotion," she said.

The Easter promotion will be in the form of an Easter Egg Hunt in participating stores. "Each customer can draw an egg from a mound of eggs in each store," Ms. Clark said. She pointed out that each egg will contain a prophecy while each store will have an egg with a $5 and an egg with a $10 gift cer-

Grant possibility for center

The Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission (NIPC) has filed no objection to the grant request of $43,000 by the Antioch Lions

That is the first step in a series that may eventually provide yet another money source for the renovation of the existing senior center located on Holbek Dr. The application for funds, which will eventually be distributed by the U.S. Dept. of Housing and Urban Development, (HUD) must now be approved on the federal level. NIPC will assure HUD that no area-wide developmental plans are being interferred with in the renovation request.

The village originally applied for a community development block grant for $50,000 which the Lake County Development Board disapproved. Both village and township governments then pledged $25,000 toward the project which could run $128,000.

The Lions Club decided to work for the project after International Systems Inc., pointed out that certain monies can be obtained by non-profit organizations for certain projects. International is also responsible for trying to get the old Antioch Grade School on the National Historical Register.

Donors still needed for blood drive

In order for all of Antioch Township to be covered by a blood plan, the Antioch Jaycees are urging community participation in the Dr. John J. Lorang Memorial Blood Drive to be held between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m., Saturday, March 29, at the Evangelical Free Church in Antioch.

According to Jaycee Dan Dreyer, appointments should be made for a blood drawing before that day, however, people may make an appointment at the door. For an appointment, call Dan Dreyer at 395-2900, Ed Roach at 395-2700 or Art Brey at 395-8495.

Petitions filed for area boards

Area schools have received the last of petitions filed for school board vacancies. Candidates will be on the April 12 ballot to fill seats on each of four Antioch school boards.

Grass Lake Grade School has announced four candidates including incumbent president John Steitz; secretary Arleen Olsen and board member Greg LaPlante. Patricia Sherwood also filed a petition. Three seats are vacant.

Emmons Grade School has three petitions. filed for two three-year terms, and one petition filed for a two-year vacancy. Running to fill the vacancy will be Susan Schneider, while incumbents Kyle Fischer and Ellen Ann Kaiser and new-comer Thomas Piskor have filed for the three-year

The Antioch Grade School District has three vacancies on its school board, and according to Superintendent Don Skidmore, five petitions have been filed. Val Mitchell, Cathy Turner, and incumbents Gail Heath, president; Bruce Jablonski, and Garnet Cook have filed for the ballot.

Distributive education ACHS class of winners

Antioch High School has a distributive education program that, like many of the school's other programs, gives students a chance to experience the working world first hand.

The program, under the direction of twelve-year instructor Keith Ewert, is a twoyear course that teaches students about retail business. Students in the class must hold an afternoon job, and to enter the class. they must fill out an application which is screened by Ewert. The studnet then must participate in a one to two hour interview with the instructor. "Many people who don't understand the class, think that it is for the student with attendance problems," Ewert stated. "The class has very strict guidelines. and part of the student's grade comes from . job performance, thus there can be no attendance problems," he added.

THE CLASS HAS three basic phases: classroom, job and club. The classroom phase, of course, is the instructional part of the course, the actual book work. "The two-,, year class is an ongoing thing," Ewert said. In other words, the learning cycle is not repeated to the students over the two-year period.

Secondly, students must enter the retail community. "It's surprising how many Antioch business people are anxious to have students from this class involved in their business," the instructor noted.

Businesses work closely with the instructor. "Students are graded on both short and long-term achievements," stated Ewert.

All teens in the class must join the distributive ed club. According to Ewert, this gives students a chance to develop leader ship skills and make group decisions "Students get very involved within the school," Ewert said. "They address other classes about the program, and construct bulletin boards. They also have written congressmen about the program," he added.

THE STUDENTS also compete for awards on a state and national basis. "Students face a very hard test in competition." Ewert noted. "Most people in actual business wouldn't want to go through what they do."

According to Ewert, students must be prepared to show competency in three out of the following areas in their individual career areas: human relations, mathematics sales, advertising, display, operations, mer-Continued on Page 13

New trust company to benefit Antioch area

The newly formed Antioch Trust Co., located in the Heritage Building on Main St., is the first of its kind in the Northern part of Lake County. The company, which was formed a little over a month ago, is getting many inquiries from businesses and individuals seeking trust advice. "This is the only trust company in the area," stated president of the company, Paul Pavelski. "There is a great need for a company such as this in the area." he added.

Pavelski has been involved in the trust business for over 10 years, and he comes from the trust department of the Citizen's National Bank of Park Ridge. He earned a degree in business from University of Wisconsin Stevens Point, and has worked at the Continental Bank in Chicago. He currendaughters.

Antioch Trust offers confidential counsultation in a full range of trusts including, land, estate and living. The company also has answers to questions about executors and profit sharing for businesses.

"People sometimes don't like to think about trusts because they don't fully understand them," stated Pavelski. He also stated that trust-companys can save bothbusinesses and individuals money by helping them avoid taxes, saving time and acting as an executor. "Most times when people have to deal with estates, it comes at a tough point in their lives," he stated. "After a lovedone's death it isn't always easy to make decisions about an estate that may amount to over $400,000."

Pavelski also stresses that no age is to young to make a will. "Lawyers and trust companies work hand in hand. Many times a lawyer will refer a client to a company, and if we don't think there is a need for the services of a trust company, we say so," he said.

A group of Antioch businessmen were instrumental in forming the entity, and the response to the Antioch Trust Company has tly resides in Glenview with his wife and two been good so far. According to Pavelski, the company is in the process of printing brochures and other information soon to be available to the public. "I'd be happy to answer any questions that people have," he stated.

PERIODONTAL DISEASE — EARLY DIAGNOSIS

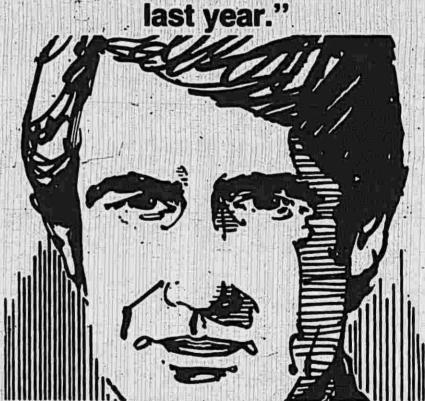

You have just completed your regular dental checkup. You breath a deep sigh of relief. "No cavities, but your gums are in poor shape." You are mistakenly relieved. The sad fact is that more teeth are lost because of periodontal disease (gum disease) than from any other factor, including cavities.

Fortunately, it can be treated successfully if it is diagnosed early. Unfortunately, you have no way of knowing of its onset other than by dental examination because there is normally no pain or other. symptoms in its early stages.

Once this silent disorder advances, though, the gums and even the lawbone may become inflamed and eventually break down. But this extreme can be avoided if the dentist regularly examines your mouth both visually and with x-rays. He can determine whether there have been any changes in the mouth tissues or the bone around your teeth. He will also look for early tooth decay, impaction, tumors in the jaw area and abscesses in tooth roots. To insure healthy gums and teeth, you must combine regular dental examinations with effective brushing, flossing, and good

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Just happened to stop in at Jim Fields victory party, and although I was there before his actual nomination to the November ballot for a seat on the Lake County Board was official, there was plenty of celebrating going on. There were wall-to-wall faithful followers at the Moose Lodge in Antioch, and plenty of spirits and good food to go around too. The Fields family was pretty excited about the whole thing, :although the District 4 votes were the last to come over the computers at the Court House. Guess lots of people had to take naps during the evening as they waited for the results that began coming in at 3 a.m.

I guess in their excitment, they had trouble with hanging "up on people when they dialed in on the "result phone" at the Moose. Oh well, just prevented the paper from having that "all-important "victory comment" from everyone's favorite township supervisor.

And I heard that Mayor Mike was ranting and raving in his usual manner as he fielded results at the Lake County Ruilding. He was overheard saying as he phoned in results afrom the court house to the Moose, "Make sure they know that these results are coming from me." Now, either he just wanted to make sure that everybody knew that he was working hard, or else he just wanted to let everyone know that the results were accurate. Being the humble man that he is. I'm sure it was the latter.

By the way, all this talk from Jimmy saying that he really which't know what he was doing throughout the campaign just sdoesn't make sense. How could be come out so victorious if he "didn't know the first thing about campaigning? I also heard that his campaigners conducted a random and unofficial poll which you guessed it, predicted the first three results just as they turned out to be-Fields, Litwiler and Geary. I'd say that Jimmy better hang on to his workers before Reagan or csomebody else on the national level hears about the success sof all the campaigning.

Committeeman Bill Georgeson, also known to help out at the World Famous Pub, couldn't say enough about the vigor with which all the workers did their jobs. He told me that a big thank you from him is in the works.

One more little tidbit on the election, and then hopefully there won't be any more talk about it in this column for awhile. Didn't you guys have fun?

With spring on its way, so comes bumpy driving because of the thaws. Drivers around Antioch should beware of potholes around town, but I guess they are already used to bumps with the condition of downtown roads. Sure hope things get patsched up soon.

Don't forget the Chamber general membership meeting coming up in two weeks. Antioch Trust president Paul Pavelski will be keynoting discussion on, you guessed it, trusts. Those luncheons are always pretty fun. Dixie's busy accepting reservations from members for the April 8 meeting.

The guys in the Rotary Club just have so much fun when they get together. They all got Easter egg coloring kits at their last meeting, and Michael Warren, who ditributed the Skits for a dollar apiece for charity, maintained that there would be a prize for the lucky holder of a kit marked with an X. Well just as you might suspect, nobody got a kit with an X conit. Guess Mike must have needed the toaster himself.

Lee Ipsen was just so overwhelmed at the St. Peter's Hosted VIP dinner-dance last Saturday. His family joined him from distant parts and the overall mood was very festive.

Mentzer loves Paris; keeps in top shape

One wouldn't expect a man with a list of amateur body building 'titles' who turned pro a year and a half ago, to be able to sit comfortably in a chair, to be able to touch the top of his head, or to be able to tie his shoes, but Michael Mentzer can do all of those things.

Mentzer, who holds Mr. America, Mr. World and Mr. Universe titles, was at the Antioch Bowl March 22 for an afternoon seminar focusing on his own body-building program and nutrition.

He has recently coauthored a book entitled "The Mentzer Method to Fitness". The book's subtitle, which deals with a revolutionary method for both men and women to keep in shape, is what the famous body builder is most concerned with. "My method is revolutionary. Ninty-nine percent of all body builders have programs which include four hours per day of conditioning. My program calls for four hours per week," stated the brownhaired, brown-eyed muscle

ACCORDING TO Mentzer. who is currently on a worldwide circuit promoting his program, that is one of the rules he lives by. "There is a limit after which muscles quit reacting to exercise. They can't tolerate an unprecidented amount of stress," the 28-year-old Pennsylvania native said. "It's just like getting a suntan. After awhile the body starts to lose tissue when it can't tolerate the sun any more," he added.

Mentzer's nutrition program consists of a well-balanced intake of food. "If feel that strictly limiting the amount of caloric intake is the basis for a good diet," he said. "I also feel that the diet should consist of at least 60 percent carbohydrates and then 25 percent protein. People are getting away from the low carbohydrate diets," he added.

BODY BUILDING and weight lifting are sports many people don't know that much about, according to Mentzer. "Most people are not up on who is into the sport, or what exactly goes into building the body. "My brother is also a body builder, and we are the only two brothers ever to both have the Mr. America title." he said. He also added that he his brother would probably gain the Mr. Universe title this year. "There's not much competition for the title this year," he said.

Mentzer has been building and lifting weights since he was 12. "My parents were really worried about my obsession with weight lifting," he said, "but it has turned into a lucrative business today." The easy, down-to-earth man is making $200,000 per year traveling the world promoting his programs.

"THE STRESS AND moving around all the time gets awful sometimes, but I know it's only for right now," he commented. "You just have to set your goals and then go for them."

Mentzer, when he has time, does some free-lance writing for Muscle Builder Magazine, which he says is how some body builders get their start. "I read that magazine from the very beginning of my interest in the sport," he maintained, "and I used to write for them on a full time basis before beginning all this traveling."

The Los Angeles resident has completed three years of pre-med school and has hopes of becoming a doctor when all his public appearances are over. "I'm very interested in sports psychology," he said. "I also feel strongly about the way sports are handled in high school. They should be used as charater builders, and today, winning isn't fun. When the fun is gone, sports at that level are not worth anything," he said.

TO KEEP IN touch with learning, Mentzer is currently studying French. "It's the most beautiful language in the world, and Paris is my favorite city. When I go back there, I want to be able to speak the language fluently," he maintained.

The busy man, who was in and out of Antioch in a days' time, hopes to someday retire to a country atmosphere. "I'd just like to have a place in the country and do some writing," he said thoughtfully. What will he write? "Everyone dreams of writing good fiction," he laughed.

Upper's grapplers nab 6th in state

School placed sixth in the had only three weeks ex-Illinois Kid Wrestling Federation's state meet held Friday and Saturday, March 20 and 21 in Decatur.

The team qualified eight wrestlers. Those boys were Ken Sandrik, 70 lbs. Steve Case, 111 lbs.; Ed Silva, 135 lbs.; Jeff Gilsson, 135 lbs.; Andy Lehn, 145 lbs.; John Mahar, 155 lbs.; Frank Mahar, 170 lbs.; and Jim. Geier, Hwt.

Of the Eight contestants in the tournament, Andy Lehn won the 145-poind championship by pinning his way through the tournament. Lehn performed an outstanding feat. He had only two points scored against him in his four state finals match. Lehn was the 125pound second place finisher from last year in the state tourney. His record was 38-0 this year.

Steve Case placed second in the tourney and also did an extraodinary job. Case's season record was 38-5, but lost three of those matches to an outstanding wrestter from the Burbank Panthers. who won the state title, and who was Case's final opponent. Case also wrestled in the state finals last year.

Frank Mahar at 170 pounds placed third in the tourney. This was a gigantic Antioch Upper Grade task for him, in that he has perience on team. Mahar has great ability, and was a standout at that.

> His brother John Mahar was equally impressive at 155 pounds, but was unable to place, as was Jeff Gilsson and Ed Silva at 135 pounds.,and Ken Sandrick at 70 pounds, who narrowly missed a shot at sixth place. Gilsson, Silva, Sandrick and the younger Mahar were very competitive, however.

> Jim Geier, the Upper Grade's heavyweight, faced some tough competition from some gigantic, outstanding heavyweights from Aledo and Rich Townships, but was able to snap up fourth place. Geier did a fine job for one season's experience.

The Upper Grade has compiled a 90-7 record in dual meets over the last six years. They've placed eighth in State in 1974, fourth in State 1979, and sixth in State in 1980.

Approximately 150 teams entered the wrestling competition this year, and Coach Ken Anderson said he is extremely happy with the Antioch wrestlers, as they not only competed well, but were sporstmanlike both on and off the mat.

The retail career areas that are tested are apparel and accessories, general merchandising, finance and credit, foodmarketing, food service, petroleum, general marketing and advertising. A student can be tested on one of two levels: owner-manager or master-employe.

"Students go to competition not knowing what area they will be tested in," Ewert said. "There is no way to be prepared for the competition. The kids must know their job," he added.

One Antioch student, Ray Burnett, placed second in the state in the owner-manager level of general merchandising. He is now elgible to go to the national career development competition held in June in Miami.

"THIS IS NOT the first time Antioch has had someone elgible for national competition. It is up to the school to decide whether he can go or not," Ewert said.

Others attending the state competition from Antioch High School were Jackie Kempher, competing in advertising from Pin & Pleat Corp.; Turn McCarthy, advertising, Lyons and Ryan Ford; Debbie Dosenbach and Laura Hartokolis, apparel and accessories, the Globe; Marge Noonan, general merchandising, Antioch Drugs; Laura Lindsey, general merchandising, Ace Hardware; Sherry Greear, general marketing, E.J.'s Camera; Karen Davis, finance and credit, Ray Glassmann and Associates Interiors; all competing on the masteremploye level.

Competitors on the owner-manager level included Ray Burnett, general merchandising, BJ's Sports Center; Dean Sheridan, general merchandising, Dynamic Cycles; and Ray Scarpelli, apparel and accessories, BJ's Fashions for men.

THROUGH THE CLUB, students may also participate in the statewide governing body. The Antioch club has its own officers, while Paulette Kruelach is vice president of the state board. The executive board members must organize activities for the state competition.

Students may also become ambassadors. "They are elected at the state conference in the fall," Ewert said. He also stated that they have to study a booklet before they can get elected.

The class is a huge success, only because of the hard-working students. "Everyone gets involved in the class, and the business community is greatly responsive," Ewert

CAN'T HAVE IT — Pictured above is "Sweet Lou" Dunbar, one of the main attractions of world famous Harlem Globetrotter team, who will be appearing at 8 p.m. Wednesday, April 2 at the Antioch Community High School. Sweet Lou promises to be one of the greatest showmen in Globetrotter history and he is fast becoming one of the most popular Globetrotters, mostly because of his warm, friendly personality. He has a smile which can appear as innocent as a child's or as mischievious as an elf's. But whichever smile is donning that famous face, one thing is for certain . . . Sweet Lou will be chewing a bright pink piece of bubblegum. According to Lou, he was born with a piece of bubblegum in his mouth, and he picked up his nickname, "Sweet Lou", when he was a child back on the playgrounds in Minden, La., because of all the gum he chewed. As a basketball player, he has tremendous ball handling skills. He was a starting guard at the University of Houston, where he compiled an incredible collegiate cage record . . . Sweet Lou averaged 21 points per game, scoring 1765 points in three seasons; earned all-American honors twice; made Cougar basketball history by being the only player to finish in the top five in both career scoring and assists. Tickets for this special event, sponsored by the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry, can be purchased at the State Bank of Antioch, First National Bank of Antioch, and the Antioch Savings & Loan Assn. They are $6 for adults and $5 for children 12 and under.

Warren Polley said that the high school district board has three vacancies with only two incumbents, Bette Meyer, secretary; and Robert Lindblad, president, seeking reelection. Four petitions other than those filed by the incumbents have been received by the high school including those from Julie A. Portalski, Frank William Walsh Jr., Maryanne Kaht and Lavoid (Lou) L. Crawford. Board member Howard Bonner will not be seeking re-election.

Polling places are as follows: Antioch High School District precinct one at Antioch High; precinct two at Pleviak Grade in Lake Villa; and precinct three at B.J. Hooper Grade in Lindenhurst;

Antioch Grade School precinct one at Antioch Lower Grade; precinct two at Channel Lake Grade School; and precinct three at Oakland Grade School; may continue his business, however I have no idea when the case will get to court," he added.

Both Emmons and Grass Lake Grade Schools will open their respective gyms for polling.

Voting time is from 1-7 p.m.

According to Pritzker he is ready to take the case as soon as Tuesday. "I'm just waiting to get a reaction from the village's attorney," he said.

ACCORDING TO Lynch, he's not sure who will be handling the case. "I really won't be handling the case but I'll be the one to know who is," he stated.

Pritzker said that he is willing to give the village some time to get its legal situation straightened out. "That is what we're waiting on," he said.

"I'm standing behind my convictions,"

Haley stated when asked if he thought that the ordinance had a place in the Antioch code.

"I don't believe that cocaine spoons, or marijuanna pipes have a place on the main street of Antioch, especially in an establishment that invites young people in because of the other items they sell (t-shirts)," the mayor stated.

The mayor also pointed out that the ordinance was not his responsibility to enforce. "I don't wear a badge," he said.

Will the courts find that Levas does in fact sell drug paraphernalia? "I'm not a lawyer or judge," Haley said, "but I do believe in this ordinance," he said.

50 YEARS AGO: MARCH 27, 1939

Twenty years ago Wilbur Glenn Voliva, flat earth theorist, had total assets amounting to 83 cents. Today, as successor to John Dowie as head of the Zion church, his income is listed at $6,000,000 a year.

When the Zionists fled the world's wickedness and went to live in seclusion on the prairies 40 miles from Chicago their property was valued at $150 an acre but some Zion land was recently purchased from the sect for $1000 an acre. The Zionists not only control their city but also manage 26 local industries which include a bakery doing business in 46 states, a publishing business, a department store, candy factory, lace manufacturing plant and a building construction business.

Exemplifying their faith in the old adage, "In union there is strength", Antioch High School yo-yo enthusiasts have formulated an organization which will be known as the "Yoyo Club". John Brogan is president, Lena Nelson vicepresident and Gertrude Hughes, secretary and treasurer. It was the consensus of opinion that an application be made for a charter, a constitution framed and suitable rules and regulations drawn up.

Fire, believed to have started from a defective chimney, swept through the home of Julius Riese, Thursday noon, driving out members of the family and causing damages to the amount of $1000. After giving the alarm by telephone, Mrs. Riese climbed to the roof and threw a pail of water on the blaze, but her efforts brought no results. Had it not been for the deep well on the Larabie property directly across the road, from which water was carried for the fire fighters, it is believed the building would have been burned to the ground. The house was not insured.

Hundreds of people not only from this city, but also from surrounding centers turned out Sunday to attend the first Sunday service held in St. Peter's new church.

J.M. Cannon and family moved last week into a cottage at Petite Lake, and the garage on Grand Ave. is now occupied and operated by B.S. Hadad, and the family lives in the rooms adjoining. The building vacated by the Hadad family will be used by Steve Hurdish as barber shop and pool room on the first floor and Mrs. Brennan and son Joe, will live in the flat upstairs.

30 YEARS AGO: MARCH 23, 1980

Mary Ann Quilty was chosen queen and Jack Mahoney king for the Gay Nineties Carnival at the high school last Friday evening. Charles Bock won first place in the pie eating contest and Bernard Katowski was second.

The Lake Villa fire department now in its twentieth year, celebrated its anniversary with a party Tuesday night in which honors were bestowed on charter members and honorary members. Charles B. Hamlin, William H. Theehs, Raymond Walsh and Ben S. Hadad were presented with recognition.

Charter members who are active today are Al Kapple, John Effinger, Lou Hamlin, Frank Slazes, H. Peterson, Erwin Barnstable, Herman Wolff, William Rhoades and Ben Cribb.

Antioch Grade School went to the semi-finals in the invitational tournament at Lake Villa last weekend, but lost the third place trophy to Wauconda. Mike Haviland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Haviland, was awarded the sportsmanship trophy. He was judged the most sportsmanlike player in the tournament.

All telephone numbers in Libertyville and Mundelein will be changed at midnight, Saturday, when dial service is inaugurated in the new Libertyville-Mundelein dial telephone exchange.

Dale Barnstable, University of Kentucky guard and captain of this year's Wildcat five, was awarded his fourth and final cage letter at the annual basketball banquet held in Lexington, Ky.

10 YEARS AGO: MARCH 26, 1970

Wendy Jensen/Barb Polsgrove and Cheri Dalgaard will be part of the group who will participate in services of the MYF group on Easter. The sunrise service will have a new "mod" look and sound which is so reflective of the newness and vitality that is both youth and spring. A continental style breakfast will follow the service again this year.

From Annie Mae . . : The handsome young man who was the topic of conversation at the beauty shops last week. His secret is still safe. There's been a lot of great guessing but nobody knows for sure.

The sixth annual Illinois state finals of the Miss American Teenager Pageant will be held in Rochelle on Aug. 14 and 15. This contest is open to all girls age 13 through 17 and they will be judged for their scholastic achievement, civic contribution, poise, personalty and appearance.

50 YEARS AGO: MARCH 27, 1930

Twenty years ago Wilbur Glenn Voliva, flat earth theorist, had total assets amounting to 83 cents. Today, as successor to John Dowie as head of the Zion church, his income is listed at $6,000,000 a year.

When the Zionists fled the world's wickedness and went to live in seclusion on the prairies 40 miles from Chicago their property was valued at $150 an acre but some Zion land was recently purchased from the sect for $1000 an acre. The Zionists not only control their city but also manage 26 local industries which include a bakery doing business in 46 states, a publishing business, a department store, candy factory, lace manufacturing plant and a building construction business.

Exemplifying their faith in the old adage, "In union there is strength", Antioch High School yo-yo enthusiasts have formulated an organization which will be known as the "Yoyo Club". John Brogan is president, Lena Nelson vicepresident and Gertrude Hughes, secretary and treasurer. It was the consensus of opinion that an application be made for a charter, a constitution framed and suitable rules and regulations drawn up.

Fire, believed to have started from a defective chimney, swept through the home of Julius Riese, Thursday noon, driving out members of the family and causing damages to the amount of $1000. After giving the alarm by telephone, Mrs. Riese climbed to the roof and threw a pail of water on the blaze, but her efforts brought no results. Had it not been for the deep well on the Larabie property directly across the road, from which water was carried for the fire fighters, it is believed the building would have been burned to the ground. The house was not insured.

Hundreds of people not only from this city, but also from surrounding centers turned out Sunday to attend the first Sunday service held in St. Peter's new church.

J.M. Cannon and family moved last week into a cottage at Petite Lake, and the garage on Grand Ave. is now occupied and operated by B.S. Hadad, and the family lives in the rooms adjoining. The building vacated by the Hadad family will be used by Steve Hurdish as barber shop and pool room on the first floor and Mrs. Brennan and son Joe, will live in the flat upstairs.

30 YEARS AGO: MARCH 23, 1980

Mary Ann Quilty was chosen queen and Jack Mahoney king for the Gay Nineties Carnival at the high school last Friday evening. Charles Bock won first place in the pie eating contest and Bernard Katowski was second.

The Lake Villa fire department now in its twentieth year, celebrated its anniversary with a party Tuesday night in which honors were bestowed on charter members and honorary members. Charles B. Hamlin, William H. Theehs, Raymond Walsh and Ben S. Hadad were presented with recognition.

Charter members who are active today are Al Kapple, John Effinger, Lou Hamlin, Frank Slazes, H. Peterson, Erwin Barnstable, Herman Wolff, William Rhoades and Ben Cribb.

Antioch Grade School went to the semi-finals in the invitational tournament at Lake Villa last weekend, but lost the third place trophy to Wauconda. Mike Haviland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Haviland, was awarded the sportsmanship trophy. He was judged the most sportsmanlike player in the tournament.

All telephone numbers in Libertyville and-Mundelein will be changed at midnight, Saturday, when dial service is inaugurated in the new Libertyville-Mundelein dial telephone exchange.

Dale Barnstable, University of Kentucky guard and captain of this year's Wildcat five, was awarded his fourth and final cage letter at the annual basketball banquet held in Lexington, Ky.

10 YEARS AGO: MARCH 26, 1970

Wendy Jensen/Barb Polsgrove and Cheri Dalgaard will be part of the group who will participate in services of the MYF group on Easter. The sunrise service will have a new "mod" look and sound which is so reflective of the newness and vitality that is both youth and spring. A continental style breakfast will follow the service again this year.

From Annie Mae . . . The handsome young man who was the topic of conversation at the beauty shops last week. His secret is still safe. There's been a lot of great guessing but nobody knows for sure.

The sixth annual Illinois state finals of the Miss American Teenager Pageant will be held in Rochelle on Aug. 14 and 15. This contest is open to all girls age 13 through 17 and they will be judged for their scholastic achievement, civic contribution, poise, personalty and appearance.

Fields, Litwiler hit issues; on ballot

News Editor

"Are we having fun yet?" At the beginning of his campaign for the District 4 GOP nomination to the November ballot to fill two vacancies on the Lake County Board, Jim Fields was promised that the campaign would indeed be fun. And, as the Fields camp went from town to town and from rally to rally, Fields himself had to keep asking if the troops were in fact having fun yet.

For Fields, the "fun" is just beginning. The Antioch Township Supervisor ran away with the District 4 County Board primary race on March 18. Donna-Mae Litwiler won the second nomination in an election that saw incumbent county board member and Avon Township Supervisor Norm Geary, and appointed board member and Wauconda Township Supervisor Jerry Beyer lose to the Fields-Litwiler team.

IN A RACE virtually impossible to predict, both Fields and Litwiler claimed that they were victors because of their hard work and their stance on the issues. "I hit on the right issues," stated Fields. "I'm concerned about the county board's spending of money," stated the man whom many think ran the most expensive campaign in the quest for the nomination.

Concerning many of the constituents in District 4, is the fact that Grant; Antioch, Lake Villa Townships, if Fields and Litwiler are elected, will have five representatives on the county board. "I am a Republican," stated Litwiler. "I would hope that, if I am elected, both Norm Geary and Jerry Beyer will work with me in resolving issues that arise on the board, and that I can help them with problems in their townships. I am not representing Grant Township, I am representing District 4," she added.

portant to not let the Republican strength in the Grant-Antioch area of District 4 get split Lake, 1,761 (7.7 percent).

up. "With the upcoming redistricting, it is essential that this area remain intact," she. said.

Although it is expected that the two GOP candidates will be easily elected to serve the county board in November, the incumbent Geary is seriously considering running on an Independent or Democratic ticket in November. Democratic committeemen could appoint Geary to fill a vacancy on that ticket. should either candidate Tony Marsala or John Stickle decide to drop out of the race. "I don't make moves to please the Republican party," Geary said of his propsed switch. "That's probably one of the reasons I didn't win the primary," he added.

"I was surprised and disappointed to not get the nomination. I guess I took to much of the campaigning for granted," he said of his loss. "The strategy was centered around getting me out. They set out to divide, confuse and conquer us, and they did," Geary poin-

THEY, TO GEARY, were officials such as Lake County Sheriff Tom Brown and Coroner Robert (Mickey) Babcox.

Beyer, who polled 84 percent of Wauconda's vote, said of his defeat, "There's a tomorrow. There is a lot of time to campaign."

Fields had 80 percent of the Antioch vote and had an extremly good showing in Lake Villa where he polled 53 percent of the vote. "We went door-to-door in Lake Villa the weekend before the primary," he said.

The final tallies of the District 4 vote were Fields, 5,039 (22 percent); Litwiler, Ingleside, 4,146 (18 percent); Geary, Grayslake, 3,660 (16 percent); Beyer, Wauconda, 3,533 (15.4 percent); Barbara Behm, Fremont Township, 2,797 (12.2 per-LITWILER ALSO pointed out that it is im- cent); Doug MacGillis, Round Lake, 1,932 (8.45 percent) and James (Bob) Fagan, Fox
